Narrative Report

Title: Emergency Food and NFI Assistance for Earthquake and Storm-Affected Karenni Communities in Southern Shan and Karenni State

Locations: Nyaung Shwe, Kalaw, and Taunggyi, Southern Shan State, Hpruso Township, East Karenni State

Report Period: 8 June 2025 - 27 April 2026

Reporting Date: 20 May 2026

1. Background and Context

In early June 2025, a moderate earthquake struck Southern Shan State, severely affecting vulnerable Karenni communities residing in Nyaung Shwe, Kalaw, and Taunggyi regions. Many of the impacted households were already displaced due to conflict in Kayah State and living in temporary shelters with limited support.

The earthquake caused damage to homes and shelters, disrupted access to food and markets, and further compounded existing humanitarian needs — particularly among women-headed households, children, elderly, and persons with disabilities (PWDs).

In addition, on 20 April 2026, severe summer storms swept through East Hpruso Township in Karenni State, destroying temporary shelters across multiple IDP camps. Families already displaced by years of conflict were left further exposed, with urgent needs for shelter materials, food, and basic non-food items ahead of the monsoon season.

2. Objectives of the Response

The main objectives of the intervention were to:

- Provide emergency food assistance to stabilize immediate food security
- Distribute essential non-food items (NFIs) to improve living conditions and personal protection for the most vulnerable households
- Provide emergency shelter materials to storm-affected IDP families in Hpruso Township

3. Target sites and Beneficiaries

Distributions were conducted across 57 sites in three response areas:

Response 1 - Earthquake Response, Southern Shan State (June 8-17, 2025)

Between 8–17 June 2025, distributions were conducted across 28 earthquake-affected sites in:

- Nyaung Shwe Township
- Kalaw Township
- Taunggyi Township

Breakdown — Southern Shan (Earthquake Response):

- Males: 1,786
- Females: 2,122
- Children under 18: 1,485
- Persons with Disabilities (PWD): 35

Response 2 - Summer Storm Response, Hpruso Township, Karenni State (April 2026)

Distributions were conducted across 3 storm-affected IDP camps in East Hpruso:

- Wai Du Lar (Preh Taw) IDP Camp
- Soe Thel IDP Camp — 27 April 2026
- Htay She Khu Camp — 20 April 2026

Breakdown — Hpruso (Storm Response):

- Wai Du Lar Camp: 68 HHs, 362 people (Rice 68 bags, Tarpaulins 68)
- Soe Thel Camp: 46 HHs, 224 people (Tarpaulins 46)
- Htay She Khu Camp: 91 HHs, 368 people (Rice 91 bags, Tarpaulins 91, Salt, Cooking Oil, Eggs 6 boxes)

Response 3 - Food Assistance for Conflict-Affected IDPs, Karenni State

Distributions were conducted across multiple townships in Karenni State to address the needs of conflict-affected and earthquake-affected IDP populations:

- Mese Township (10 camps)
- East Demoso (9 sites)
- Demoso — Loinapha, Mya Leh
- Bawlake — Ywarthit
- Bawlake — Huai Pu Long
- Shadaw (3 camps)
- Hpruso, Hoya — Nyaung Shwe Kone Camp

Vulnerable groups prioritized across all three response:

- Women-led households
- Large households with children
- Elderly-headed households
- Persons with disabilities

4. Items Distributed

a. Food Items (Earthquake Response — Southern Shan)

Distributed to all targeted households based on household size:

- Rice: 1 sack (approx. 50kg) per 4 persons
- Cooking Oil: 2 bottles per household
- Salt: 0.5 viss (approx. 0.8 kg) per household

This food package was designed to cover 7–10 days of basic consumption.

b. Non-Food Items (NFIs) — Earthquake Response, Southern Shan

Distributed to the most vulnerable households, especially women-led and PWD households:

- Tarpaulins: 1 per HH
- Blankets: 1 per person
- Mosquito Nets: 1 per 2 people

c. Emergency Relief Items — Storm Response, Hpruso

Distributed to all 205 storm-affected households:

- Rice: 159bags total (68 + 91 bags)
- Tarpaulins: 205 (1 per HH across all three camps)
- Salt and cooking oil: distributed to Htay She Khu Camp
- Eggs: 6 boxes distributed to Htay She Khu Camp

5. Market Access and Constraints

Populations in Southern Shan typically access basic goods via Chery Kone Market and Pekim Market. However:

- Road conditions were damaged by the earthquake and seasonal rain
- Market access was restricted for many IDPs due to distance and high transport costs
- Prices of essential goods increased due to supply-demand imbalance

6. Gaps and Unmet Needs

While the intervention addressed urgent needs, significant gaps remain:

- No formal assistance had been provided to Southern Shan communities in the 3 months prior to the earthquake response
- Only some households had received small-scale cash donations from private networks
- Hpruso families have been displaced for over four years and are unable to afford shelter repairs independently

Persistent unmet needs across all three response areas include:

- Additional food supplies for coming weeks
- Safe water and hygiene kits
- Basic health and nutrition support
- Psychosocial and protection services for trauma-affected populations
- Further structural support and roofing materials for storm-damaged shelters before the monsoon season

7. Coordination and Implementation Approach

The response was carried out in close coordination with:

- Community focal points and local camp-based volunteers
- Displacement site leaders for verification and prioritization
- Women representatives for identification of vulnerable households

All activities adhered to Do No Harm, inclusion, and Duty of Care principles to ensure safe and respectful delivery of assistance.

8. Food Assistance for Conflict-Affected IDPs in Karenni State

In addition to the earthquake response in Southern Shan State, CTER also conducted emergency humanitarian distributions across multiple townships in Karenni State to address the needs of conflict-affected IDPs and earthquake-affected communities.
